The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

SECTION 1. Section 16 of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution reads as rewritten:

"Sec. 16.(1) Terms of office and election of Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and Judges of the Superior Court. Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, and regular Judges of the Superior Court shall be elected and retained by the qualified voters as provided by this section and shall hold office for terms of eight years and until their successors are elected and qualified. Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Court of Appeals shall be elected and retained by the qualified voters of the State. Regular Judges of the Superior Court may shall be elected and retained by the qualified voters of the State or by the voters of their respective districts, as the General Assembly may prescribe districts.

(2) General principles. – Justices and Judges of the Appellate Division and Judges of the Superior Court should be selected for and continue to hold office solely upon the basis of personal and professional fitness to administer justice wisely, according to law, and without favor, denial, or delay to all persons who come into the courts. While their continuation in office should be periodically subject to approval by the people, both their initial selection and continuation in office should be free from the influences and necessities of partisan political activity."
Nomination, appointment, election, and retention election. – Nomination, appointment, election, retention election, and terms of Justices and Judges are as follows:

(a) When a vacancy occurs in the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Appellate Division, or Judge of Superior Court, the Governor shall appoint a person to fill the vacancy from among two nominees of the Judicial Nominating Commission. For purposes of this subsection, creation of a new judgeship creates a vacancy.

(b) The term of office by appointment as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Appellate Division, or Judge of Superior Court extends through January 31 after the next statewide election for members of the General Assembly that is held more than 210 days after the vacancy. That election shall be between the two candidates nominated by the Judicial Nominating Commission, with the winning candidate elected to a regular term.

(c) If the person not appointed by the Governor chooses by July 31 of the year of the election not to seek election, the person holding by appointment the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Appellate Division, or Judge of Superior Court who desires to continue in office shall be subject to approval by nonpartisan ballot, by a majority of the votes cast on the issue of the Justice's or Judge's retention. An Associate Justice, Judge of the Appellate Division, or Judge of Superior Court then approved for retention serves a regular term.

(d) If the person appointed by the Governor chooses by July 31 of the year of the election not to seek election, the Judicial Nominating Commission shall nominate to the Governor two persons to hold office beginning the next February 1 as if there were a vacancy occurring on that next February 1, and the Governor shall appoint one of them to fill the vacancy.

(e) An incumbent Justice or Judge who was successful in a contested election, or was successful in a retention election, files for retention by February 1 of the year of election is subject to approval by nonpartisan ballot, by a majority of the votes cast on the issue of the Justice's or Judge's retention for the subsequent term. If the person does not file for retention by that date, the office shall become vacant at the end of the term of office, and it shall be filled by nomination and appointment as prescribed in this section as if the vacancy occurred on February 1 after the election.

(f) The regular terms of office of the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge of the Court of Appeals, and Judge of Superior Court is eight years and expires on January 31.

(g) If the voters fail to approve the retention in office of an Associate Justice, Judge of the Court of Appeals, or Judge of Superior Court serving an appointed or regular term, the office shall become vacant at the end of the term of office and it shall be filled by nomination and appointment as prescribed in this section as if the vacancy occurred on February 1 after the election.

(h) The General Assembly shall implement this Section by general law.

(4) Chief Justice. – If a vacancy occurs in the office of Chief Justice, the Governor shall appoint to that office an Associate Justice who was elected to that position to serve as Chief Justice. The person appointed to be Chief Justice shall serve in that capacity for the remaining portion of the term to which the person serving was elected as Associate Justice. At the end of the term, the person so appointed shall be subject to a retention election as if the position were Associate Justice under subsection (3) of this Section. If there is no Associate Justice who was elected, the Governor shall appoint an Associate Justice to be Chief Justice, and the person shall be treated as if filling a vacancy as Associate Justice under subsection (3) of this Section. Appointment of an Associate Justice as Chief Justice creates a vacancy in the office of Associate Justice.

(5) Transition provisions. – The term of office of a person who has been elected before January 1, 2013, to the office of Chief Justice, Associate Justice, or Judge of the Appellate Division for a term which extends beyond January 1, 2013, and who is in office on December 31, 2012, is extended through January 31 of the year following the eighth year after the date any such Justice or Judge was last elected to the office. If the person so elected continues to serve for the remainder of the term, that person may stand for retention in the office for a succeeding regular term as provided in this Section, subject to the provisions of law relating to mandatory retirement. If the person continues to serve for the remainder of the term but does not stand for retention election, a vacancy is created in the office upon expiration of the term and this vacancy shall be filled by nomination and appointment as provided in this Section.

The term of office of a person who has been appointed prior to January 1, 2013, to a vacancy occurring during the period beginning on the 60th day before the 2012 general election and ending December 31, 2012, to the office of Chief Justice, Associate Justice, or Judge of the Appellate Division for a term which extends beyond January 1, 2013, and who is in office on December 31, 2012, shall end on January 31, 2015. If the person so appointed continues to serve for the remainder of the term, that person may stand for retention in the office for a regular term as provided by this Section at the statewide election for members of the General Assembly held in 2014.

Upon the death, resignation, removal, or retirement of any incumbent Justice or Judge on or after January 1, 2013, and before the expiration of the Justice's or Judge's term of office, the resulting vacancy shall be filled by nomination and appointment as provided in this Section.

Vacancies in judicial offices in the Appellate Division occurring before January 1, 2012, and not filled by that date, shall be filled by nomination and appointment as provided in this Section.

From the date any incumbent described in this subsection is continued in office by retention vote for a term next succeeding the term in progress on January 1, 2013, or is succeeded in office by another person, the office is held subject to the provisions of this Section.

(6) The General Assembly shall create by law a Judicial Nominating Commission. Once established, the composition and method of choosing the members of the Commission shall not be changed except by a law approved by two-thirds of the members of each house present and voting. The law may provide for direct appointments by officers and leaders of the General Assembly. Except to fill a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice as provided by this Section, the Judicial Nominating Commission shall recommend two eligible persons to fill the vacancy, and the Governor may only appoint a person so recommended.

(7) The General Assembly may implement this Section by general law."

the question of the Justice's or Judge's retention in office is submitted for approval or disapproval by nonpartisan vote of the people, (iii) provision is made for the case of withdrawal

Justice from among the Associate Justices."

   Ballots for Justice of the Supreme Court, judge of the court of appeals, and superior court judge shall be either (i) between the two candidates nominated by the Judicial Nominating Commission in accordance with Section 16 of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution, G.S. 7A-4.4, and G.S. 163-331.1 or (ii) on the question of retention of the justice or judge in accordance with Section 16 of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution and G.S. 163-331.2."

SECTION 19. Article 25 of Chapter 163 of the General Statutes is amended by adding new sections to read:

"§ 163-333.1. Contested election after appointment by the Governor.
(a) When two persons have been nominated by the Judicial Nominating Commission for the Governor to appoint to fill a vacancy, and an election is to be held in accordance with Section 16 of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution between the person appointed by the Governor and the person not appointed by the Governor, it shall be held under the applicable provisions of this Chapter. The ballot shall allow the voter to choose between the two candidates, and the party affiliation of the two candidates shall not appear on the ballot.

(b) If the nominee of the Judicial Nominating Commission not appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy files with the State Board of Elections prior to August 1 of the year of the election notice that the person does not seek election, no election shall be held under this section, but a retention election shall be held under G.S. 163-331.2.

(c) If the person appointed by the Governor prior to August 1 of the year of the election files notice with the State Board of Elections that the person chooses not to seek election, no election shall be held under this Article that year, and the Judicial Nominating Commission shall nominate to the Governor two persons to hold office beginning the next February 1 as if there were a vacancy occurring on that next February 1, and the Governor shall appoint one of them to fill the vacancy.

(d) Any notice under this section shall be on a form prescribed by the State Board of Elections.

§ 163-331.2. Retention elections.
(a) As provided by Section 16 of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution, an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, judge of the court of appeals, or judge of superior court desiring to continue in office shall be subject to approval by nonpartisan ballot, by a majority of votes cast on the issue of the justice’s or judge’s retention. This section applies (i) when the incumbent was elected to that term under G.S. 163-331.1(a), (ii) when the person not appointed declines candidacy under G.S. 163-331.1(b), (iii) where an Associate Justice has been appointed Chief Justice under Section 16(4) of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution and seeks retention at the end of the term as provided therein, or (iv) in the case of a person holding office on December 31, 2012, where the provisions of Section 16(5) of Article IV of the North Carolina Constitution provides for a retention election in 2014.
A person subject to subsection (a) of this section shall indicate the choice to continue in office by filing a notice to that effect with the State Board of Elections no later than 12:00 noon on February 1 in the year of the election. The notice shall be on a form approved by the State Board of Elections. Notice can be withdrawn at any time prior to the deadline for filing notice under this subsection.

Retention elections shall be conducted and canvassed in accordance with rules of the State Board of Elections in the same general manner as general elections under Chapter 163 of the General Statutes, except that the retention election is nonpartisan. The form of the ballot shall be determined by the State Board of Elections. The ballot shall ask whether the named justice or judge shall continue in an office for another term.

If a person who has filed a notice calling a retention election dies or is removed from office prior to the time that the ballots are printed, the retention election is cancelled. If a person who has filed a notice calling a retention election dies or is removed from office after the ballots are printed, the State Board of Elections may cancel the election if it determines that the ballots can be reprinted without significant expense. If the ballots cannot be reprinted, then the results of the election shall be ineffective.
