AN ACT TO ENACT "AEDIN'S LAW" TO DIRECT THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE TO ADOPT RULES ESTABLISHING PERMITTING AND SANITATION REQUIREMENTS FOR ANIMAL EXHIBITIONS.

Whereas, contact with animals in public settings such as fairs, farm tours, and petting zoos provides opportunities for entertainment and education concerning animals and animal husbandry; and

Whereas, inadequate understanding of disease transmission can lead to infectious diseases among visitors, especially children, in these public settings; and

Whereas, in 2004, Aedin, a two-year-old child, and her family visited a petting zoo in North Carolina; and

Whereas, shortly after the visit to the petting zoo, Aedin contracted E. coli infection, was hospitalized for 36 days, and continues to suffer serious, lifelong complications from the infection and related Hemolytic Uremic Syndrome (HUS); and

Whereas, it is in the interest of the public health of this State to ensure that proper sanitation and other procedures are in place at fairs and animal exhibitions to address the potential for disease transmission; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:
